I still shudder thinking of our ACS final that was worth 40% of the grade. I agree with the previous rater that info and structures are written too fast on the board: this is not a topic a voice recorder could help. In a blatant plug for the Reagent Guide, each Friday for the foreseeable future here I will profile a different reagent that is commonly encountered in Org 1/ Org 2. Of all the reagents I encounter as a tutor in organic chemistry, I'm not sure there's one that makes me want to rip my hair out more than chromic acid. I don't have a lot of hair so I don't say that lightly. Alkanes.
